AI - Tribes Pune DC

About Me
Hola! I'm Ishita.
I am a passionate frontend developer in technologies like HTML, CSS, JavaScript, Angular, React, and a foundational understanding of Three.js. My expertise primarily lies in Angular, where I have dedicated most of my project work.
Beyond development, I have a deep-seated interest in Design. I love crafting intuitive and aesthetically pleasing screens and websites, playing with pixels to create engaging user experiences.
In this exciting era of AI, I am exploring the integration of Generative AI and various technologies to revolutionize web development. My goal is to streamline processes, saving both time and energy while pushing the boundaries of what's possible.
